LINDA L. STEPHENSON,

Plaintiff,

vs.

FIRST AMERICAN TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY; MORTGAGE ELECTRONIC REGISTRATION SYSTEMS, INC.; and HOMECOMINGS FINANCIAL LLC,

Defendants.

Case No.: C13-1150 RSM

ORDER ON MOTION TO DISMISS

I. INTRODUCTION

This matter comes before the Court on Defendant First American Title Insurance Company's ("First American") motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6). Dkt. # 11. Although First American is no longer a party to this dispute, Defendant Mortgage Electronic Registration System, Inc. ("MERS") joined the motion and seeks dismissal of Plaintiff's claims against it as time barred. Dkt. # 15. For the reasons that follow, the motion will be GRANTED in part and DENIED in part.

II. BACKGROUND

As alleged by Plaintiff Linda Stephenson in her First Amended Complaint (“FAC”) (Dkt. # 2), on August 25, 2005, she executed a promissory note (“Note”) and Deed of Trust in connection with purchase of property located at 905 Christopher Lane, Pasco, WA 99301. Dkt. # 2, ¶ 8. The Deed of Trust identified the mortgage lender as Homecomings Financial Network, Inc. (“Homecomings”) and the trustee as Benton-Franklin Title Company. Id.; Ex. B. The Deed of Trust also named MERS as nominee beneficiary on behalf of the lender. Id.; Ex. B at p. 3.

Beginning December 1, 2006, Ms. Stephenson fell behind on her mortgage payments. Id. at ¶ 9. On or about March 9, 2006, First American issued a Notice of Default stating the amount owed was $6,618.86. Id. at ¶ 11. Ms. Stephenson alleges that she paid that amount to the lender and that she confirmed that her cure payment was received by Homecomings. Id. at ¶¶ 12-13. On March 2, 2007, MERS recorded an Appointment of Successor Trustee under Auditor’s File No. 1698426 in Franklin County, Washington, appointing First American as successor trustee. Id. at ¶ 10; Ex. C. Despite her conversations with Homecomings, First American recorded a Notice of Trustee’s Sale. Id. at ¶ 13; Ex. D. The sale of her home took place on July 13, 2007. Id. at ¶ 14; Ex. E.

Ms. Stephenson filed this lawsuit on July 9, 2013, roughly six years after sale occurred, seeking money damages. She asserts claims for breach of contract, violation of the Washington Deed of Trust Act (“DTA”), violation of the Washington Consumer Protection Act (“CPA”), and fraud. The core of the FAC is directed to MERS’s presence on the Deed of Trust and its status as an ineligible beneficiary under Washington law. Defendant First American filed the instant motion to dismiss on the grounds that all claims are time barred. MERS joined the motion, but

1 First American and Homecomings have each been dismissed from the lawsuit. See Dkt. ## 23,
 2 32. MERS is the only remaining defendant.

3 III. DISCUSSION

4 A. Legal Standard

5 In considering a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss, the Court must determine whether the 6 plaintiff has alleged sufficient facts to state a claim for relief which is “plausible on its face.”
 7 Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S. Ct. 1937, 1951 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550
 8 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is facially plausible if the plaintiff has pled “factual content that
 9 allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct
 10 alleged.” Id. (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). In making this assessment, the Court accepts all 11 facts alleged in the complaint as true, and makes all inferences in the light most favorable to the 12 non-moving party. Baker v. Riverside County Office of Educ., 584 F.3d 821, 824 (9th Cir. 2009)
 13 (internal citations omitted). The Court is not, however, bound to accept the plaintiff’s legal 14 conclusions. Iqbal, 129 S. Ct. at 1949-50. While detailed factual allegations are not necessary, 15 the plaintiff must provide more than “labels and conclusions” or a “formulaic recitation of the 16 elements of a cause of action.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555.

17 B. Analysis

18 A statute-of-limitations defense may be raised in motion to dismiss if “it is apparent from 19 the face of the complaint” that the limitations period has expired. Seven Arts Filmed 20 Entertainment Ltd. v. Content Media Corp., 733 F.3d 1251, 1254 (9th Cir. 2013) (quoting
 21 Conerly v. Westinghouse Elec. Corp., 623 F.2d 117, 119 (9th Cir. 1980). MERS contends that 22 the allegations of the FAC make clear that the two-year statute of limitations imposed by RCW

1 61.24.127 has run on all of Ms. Stephenson's claims. Although she does not address the import
2 of this statute, Ms. Stephenson argues that because the sale of her home was void ab initio, her
3 claims are not time barred. Alternatively, the FAC alleges that the claims are not time barred
4 because Ms. Stephenson did not know that she had a cognizable cause of action against the 5 Defendants until the Washington Supreme Court decided Bain v. Metropolitan Mortg. Grp., Inc.,
6 285 P.3d 34 (Wash. 2012). Dkt. # 2, ¶ 15.

7 1. RCW 61.24.127

8 In 2009, the Washington State Legislature enacted RCW 61.24.127. The statute preserves
9 claims for damages where a borrower elects not to restrain a trustee's sale. Such claims include
10 claims against the trustee for violating the Deed of Trust Act, claims for common law fraud or 11 misrepresentation, and claims brought pursuant to Title 19 RCW, which includes alleged 12 violations of the CPA. RCW 61.24.127(1). These "non-waived" claims are subject to a two-year
13 statute of limitations that runs "from the date of the foreclosure sale" unless there is an applicable
14 statute of limitations for the claim that expires earlier. RCW 61.24.127(2). The statute took effect
15 on July 26, 2009. 2009 Wash. Legis. Serv. Ch. 292.

16 First American conducted the trustee's sale of Ms. Stephenson's property on July 13,
17 2007. It contends that RCW 61.24.127's two-year statute of limitations began to run on Ms.
18 Stephenson's claims for violation of the DTA, violation of the CPA, and for fraud,<sup>1</sup> on July 26,
19 2009, the date that statute took effect. Dkt. # 11, p. 5 (citing Washington case law for the rule
20 that for claims that accrued before a statute takes effect, the new limitations period runs from the 21 effective date of the new statute).

been dismissed from the case.

1           The FAC alleges that under Bain, MERS was an ineligible beneficiary of the Deed of 2 Trust and lacked legal authority to appoint First American as the successor trustee. Because
3 MERS lacked such authority, Ms. Stephenson asserts that the trustee's sale was void ab initio
4 and thus her legal challenge may be brought without concern for any applicable statute of 5 limitations. However, this Court has already rejected Ms. Stephenson's position. See Gaylean v.
6 Northwest Trustee Serv's, Inc., No. C13-1359 MJP, 2014 WL 1416864, *10 (discussing case law
7 and concluding that allowing a stale challenge to an improper non-judicial foreclosure without 8 regard for the appropriate limitations period would be "completely contrary to the current state of 9 jurisprudence").

10           The FAC makes clear that the non-waiver statute's two-year limitations period bars Ms.
11 Stephenson's claims against First American under the DTA and the CPA, and her fraud claim.
12 However, with respect to the DTA claim, only claims brought against the trustee are properly
13 "not-waived" under the statute. The argument presented in First American (the trustee)'s motion
14 is not applicable to MERS. Although MERS joined the motion, it has not provided any argument
15 specific to whether the Court should dismiss the DTA claim asserted against MERS, a non-
16 trustee defendant. See Mickelson v. Chase Home Fin. LLC, C11-1445MJP, 2012 WL 1301251, 17 *5 (W.D. Wash. Apr. 16, 2012) reconsideration denied, 901 F. Supp. 2d 1286 (W.D. Wash.
18 2012). Accordingly, the DTA claim against MERS will not be dismissed.

19           As to the CPA and fraud claims, both are expressly preserved by the non-waiver statute
20 and therefore subject to its two-year limitations period. Even assuming the limitations began to 21 run on the effective date of the statute, Ms. Stephenson's limitations period ran, at the latest, on 22

1 July 26, 2011. Her initial Complaint was filed almost two years after this date. Thus, the CPA
2 and fraud claims are time barred.

4 2. Discovery Rule

5 By alleging that the claims are not time barred because Ms. Stephenson did not know the 6 nature of her claim until Bain was decided, the FAC invokes application of the discovery rule to 7 toll the two-year limitations period. Under the discovery rule, a cause of action does not accrue
8 until a plaintiff knows, or has reason to know, the factual basis for the cause of action. Bowles v.
9 Wash. Dept. of Ret. Sys., 121 Wash.2d 52, 79–80, 847 P.2d 440 (1993).

10 The discovery rule does not save Ms. Stephenson’s claims. First, “where the legislature
11 has clearly delineated the event that starts the running of the limitations period,” the discovery
12 rule does not apply. Mickelson, 2012 WL 1301251 at *5 (quoting In re Parentage of C.S., 139
13 P.3d 366, 369 (Wash. Ct. App. 2006)). The legislature has clearly marked the triggering event
14 that starts the clock for preserved claims under the non-waiver statute as the date of the 15 foreclosure sale. Id.; RCW 61.24.127.

16 Second, Ms. Stephenson was aware or should have been aware of the factual basis of her 17 claims, at the very latest, when her property was sold in 2007. Although she urges the Court to 18 toll the limitations period on the basis that she could not have known that she had a cognizable
19 cause of action until after Bain was decided, discovery of the legal cause action is not the 20 applicable test. The discovery rule tolls the limitations period from the time a plaintiff learns the 21 facts underlying the claim, not when the plaintiff discovers that the claim may be legally viable.
22 Cox v. Oasis Physical Therapy, PLLC, 222 P.3d 119, 126 (Wash. Ct. App. 2009). The FAC demonstrates that Ms. Stephenson either knew or should have known the relevant facts

1 underlying her claims by at least July of 2007 when her home was sold at foreclosure, which was
2 two years after she signed the Deed of Trust that listed MERS as beneficiary, and several months
3 after MERS publicly record the appointment of First American as successor trustee. Thus, the 4 discovery rule is inapplicable and the CPA and fraud claims will be dismissed with prejudice as 5 time barred.

6 IV. CONCLUSION

7 Having considered the motion, the response and reply thereto, MERS' notice of joinder,
8 and the balance of the file, the Court hereby finds and ORDERS:

- 9 (1) As to Defendant MERS, the Motion to Dismiss (Dkt. # 11) will be GRANTED IN 10 PART and DENIED IN PART;
11 (2) The CPA and Fraud claims will be dismissed with prejudice.
